

Staff Attorney, Racial Justice

JOB ANNOUNCEMENT

Date Opened: June 12, 2023

Status: Exempt, Full-time
Compensation: $85,000 to $95,000 annually depending on experience
Reports to: Senior Staff Attorney, Racial Justice
Location: Currently remote, with San Francisco office open as an option.
Hybrid remote/office likely in future.

Are you an attorney who is passionate about racial justice and is interested in litigating and advocating to dismantle unjust systems? We invite you to consider joining us!

About You

We are looking for a skilled attorney with excellent written and oral advocacy skills, someone who is devoted to movement lawyering and dismantling unjust systems, passionate about racial and economic justice, committed to working in a collaborative environment, and eager to train and support junior attorneys. This person will serve as a leader at the crux of our coordinated impact litigation and campaign advocacy strategies—taking on an immediate role staffing existing impact litigation matters while also plugging into advocacy coalitions pushing targeted legislation to address issues related to our litigation. This position will work closely with an exceptional team that includes the Legal Director, senior attorneys, another staff attorney, a program coordinator, and legal fellows.

About LCCRSF

As one of the most enduring civil rights institutions on the West Coast, LCCRSF works to dismantle systems of oppression and racism and to build an equitable and just society. Formed in 1968 to bridge the legal community and the Civil Rights Movement, we're known for advancing the rights of people of color, immigrants, refugees, and low-income individuals. We also invest in legal fellows and support a network of over 1,000 active pro bono attorneys and volunteers. We are in this work for the long haul. Our goal is to make this work sustainable, to rest as needed and take care of each other and our communities, so we can be fierce in the face of power through our core issue areas of Racial Justice, Immigrant Justice, Economic Justice, and Educational Justice. Learn more at lccrsf.org.

About the Racial Justice Team

As part of our racial and economic justice work, LCCRSF is drawing on its years of experience to meet the demands of a moment defined by COVID-19, the national reckoning in response to police brutality and oppressive systems of wealth extraction designed to target low-income Black and Brown communities. We take an integrated advocacy approach by combining cutting-edge impact litigation with targeted advocacy campaigns designed to achieve measurable wins in the fight for racial and economic justice. LCCRSF works in the direction of movement groups and grassroots allies. We also draw impact work from patterns we see in our limited-scope direct legal services clinics in Black and Brown communities including the People's Clinic, which seeks redress for police violence. Some of our recent litigation and advocacy victories include:

- Debt Collective v. Judicial Council of California, a case against the California courts for running a profit scheme that extracted hundreds of millions of dollars from low-income Black and Brown Californians for profit; our litigation and advocacy helped galvanize AB-199, a new law that eliminated more than $1 billion in illegally imposed court debts;
- Coalition on Homelessness v. City and County of San Francisco, securing a historic preliminary injunction against San Francisco's draconian practice of policing homeless residents who have committed no crime but sleeping in public amidst the City's massive affordable housing shortage;
- Caldwell v. Bad Boys Bail Bonds, winning a decisive appellate ruling invalidating $30+ million dollars in illegal bail debts for the families of arrestees, and declaring that unscrupulous bail bond companies must honor consumer protection laws;
- Got hundreds of curfew citations dismissed in Sacramento and San Jose in the wake of George Floyd protests. Filed litigation for people injured by the violent tactics of law enforcement to prevent future police violence and get recompense for those harmed in White v. City of Sacramento;
- Co-sponsored AB1082—a new law that would end the practice of seizing and selling low-income people's vehicles just because they cannot afford to pay late parking tickets. The bill dovetails with ongoing litigation we are pursuing before the California Court of Appeal;
- Made California a national model for fines and fees reform, including ending driver's license suspensions and eliminating dozens of regressive fees.

By being grounded in community, and listening to our clients and grassroots partners across the Bay Area, we are able to identify the greatest needs and how our expertise can best be used to fill critical gaps. We are thinking strategically and creatively about how we can best mobilize pro bono partners, and innovate nimble responses to the most pressing civil rights issues of our time. Your Work

Impact Litigation and Related Representation (75%)

Serve as counsel on large impact cases in our current civil rights docket, including legal research, drafting and reviewing filings and correspondence, discovery, motion practice, trial advocacy, and appellate advocacy, all under the mentorship of more senior attorneys on staff. Engage with pro bono law firm partners and co-counsel at other nonprofit institutions in the Bay Area to collaborate on ongoing litigation matters.

Help investigate racial and economic justice issues for impact litigation and policy advocacy, including investigation of cases and strengthening the organization's ties with community partners and clients who best understand which issues are top priority and the remedies needed.

Provide limited direct services representation specifically for unhoused clients and other low-income Californians arising out of and to support our larger impact litigation work, including administrative, small claims, criminal infraction, and other representation as appropriate.

Policy and Advocacy (20%)

Engage in legislative and administrative advocacy, such as drafting of regulations and legislation, meetings with client organizations, representation of groups before administrative and legislative bodies, and technical assistance to policy makers related to LCCRSF's ongoing litigation;

External Partnerships and Communication (5%)

Seek opportunities to engage in public education and media advocacy consistent with our identified program strategies and in consultation with Communications staff.

Essential Qualifications

- 1-3 years of post-graduate legal experience with at least some direct experience or involvement with impact litigation matters;
- Passionate about racial justice
- Experienced in working with/ties to low-income communities of color;
- Excellent oral and written communication skills and a thirst to hone core litigation skills;
- Collaborative, affable, team-player who will work cooperatively across a team of people from diverse backgrounds, experiences, and perspectives;
- California Bar membership or intent to sit for the California bar within 6 months of hire;

Salary, Benefits, Work location

This position is full-time, exempt, with a salary range of $85k to 95k depending on experience, and reports to the Senior Staff Attorney, Racial Justice. Full benefits package includes 100% paid medical + 80% for dependents, phone and internet reimbursement, wellness bonus, vacation, sick time, paid holidays, short Fridays, and winter break (office closure during the last week of the calendar year).

Our office is based on downtown San Francisco but we have a flexible remote policy that accommodates remote work the vast majority of the time unless our work calls for in-person outreach and communication with the clients and communities we serve. We do not yet have a target date for return to the office, but we expect to offer, at minimum, part-time remote. While remote, may not work outside CA for more than 30 consecutive days at a time. Employees must be fully vaccinated according to CDC COVID-19 guidelines for in-person work.

General working hours are 9am-5pm, M-F. LCCRSF is woman- and minority-led, with 35 staff. We are flexible, family-friendly, and value health, wellness and balance. We follow ADA guidelines - reasonable accommodation may be made to enable individuals with different abilities to perform the essential functions.

Working Environment and Conditions

The working conditions described here are representative of those that must be met to successfully perform the essential functions of this position. While performing the duties of this position, the employee must be able to remain in a stationary position, constantly operate a computer, and must have the ability to communicate information and ideas so others will understand. Reasonable accommodation may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the functions.

To Apply

Deadline to apply is July 10, 2023. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis. Applicants should submit: 1) a cover letter; 2) a resume; 3) contact information for a minimum of three references; and 4) two writing samples, including ideally at least one motion, brief, or research memorandum. These materials can be sent by email to: careers@lccrsf.org (w/ "Staff Attorney-Racial Justice" in the subject line). Questions about the position can also go to that email.

In your cover letter, in addition to describing your interest in the position and qualifications, please respond to the following question: What in your background and experience has prepared you to work for an organization dedicated to advancing racial equity and justice? Feel free to think broadly about your response, applying professional or personal experiences.

We hope to welcome candidates of all backgrounds, but we prioritize applicants who come from the impacted communities that we serve. If that applies to you, please let us know in your cover letter if you feel comfortable. LCCRSF also views it as part of its mission to mentor, train, and empower the next generation of attorneys of color looking to make their professional home in the civil rights space. Please let us know how you would contribute to that mission in your role as a Senior Attorney with us.

Lawyers' Committee for Civil Rights of the San Francisco Bay Area thrives as an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. BIPOC, LGBTQ+ candidates, people of all gender identities, persons with disabilities and individuals over 55 are encouraged to apply.
